

Attorney Docket No. 45112-089
Application No. 09/604,082

REMARKS

Claims 4, 7, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43 and 45-49 are pending. Claims 4, 7, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43 and 45-49 are amended to encompass infringing subject matter. Applicants reserve the right to file continuing applications. No new matter is introduced into the patent application.

Attached hereto is a marked-up version of the changes made to the claims by the present amendment. The attached page is captioned "Version With Markings To Show Changes Made."

The Advisory Action asserts that certain claim amendments made in the Amendment After Final Rejection raise new matter issues that would require further consideration and/or search. Applicant respectfully traverses these assertions for at least the following reasons. First, Applicants respectfully submit that the phrase "knockdown and kill" is not new matter. The written description supports compositions and methods for controlling household pests wherein the claimed invention results in the knocking down and killing of cockroaches and ants. Indeed, the examples in the specification specifically set forth both knockdown and mortality data against household pests.

Applicants traverse the Advisory Action's assertion that the claims were broadened in scope to include control over any household pest besides cockroaches and ants. On the contrary, the claims have always been directed to compositions and methods for controlling household pests, including, but not necessarily limited to cockroaches and ants.

In response to the Advisory Action's assertion that designating various function to the same compounds broadens the scope of the claimed invention in Claim 7, Applicants respectfully submit that the scope of Claim 7 as presented in the Amendment After Final Rejection was not different from that which was earlier in the Amendment and Reply in response to the August 9, 2001 Office Action. In particular, the method of Claim 7 comprises the composition of Claim 5 of the Amendment and Reply to the August 9, 2001 Office Action. As such, Applicants respectfully submit that the scope of Claim 7 as presented in the Amendment After Final Rejection did not comprise new matter with respect to different designations of compounds.

With respect to the Advisory Action's assertion that issues of new matter might exist in the newly proposed Claims 46-49, Applicants respectfully traverse this assertion for the reasons set forth in the Amendment After Final Rejection. In particular, Claims 46-49 merely recites compositions that are believed to fall within the scope of Claim 5 as set forth in the Amendment and Reply to the August 9, 2001 Office Action.

Attorney Docket No. 45112-089
Application No. 09/604,082

In view of the above comments, Applicants respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of any objections asserting that new matter has been introduced into the claims.

The Advisory Action states that the claimed invention is not necessarily limited to incorporation of all compounds but rather to addition of one or more components to the "rosemary component". In response, Applicants respectfully submit the claimed invention comprises each listed feature as set forth in the Amendment After Final Rejection and as set forth herein. Applicants respectfully submit that the format of the claims herein-presented is merely stylistically changed, setting apart each feature of the claimed invention with indentations and semicolons.

In response to the Advisory Action's assertion that the cited references relate to the problem of controlling various insects and thus are considered to be pertinent to the particular problem within the scope of the claimed invention, Applicants respectfully reiterate and incorporate herein the arguments previously proffered. The cited references simply do not disclose, teach or suggest each and every feature of the claimed invention having the pesticidal effects of knocking down and killing household pests. As such, Applicants respectfully request reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejections under 102 and 103.
